Jespersen Proposes Tax Amendment

Ralph Jespersen, Social Credit member for Stony Plain Constituency, seconded the following motion by Keith Everett in the Alberta Legislature last Monday.

"Be it resolved that the Legislative Assembly request the Government to consider introducing an amendment to The Municipal Taxation Act at this Session of the Legislature to provide that property assessed under The Electric Power and Pipe Line Assessment Act in a municipal district, county, improvement district or special area be liable to any tax to meet the requisition of the board of a school district, school division or hospital district, commonly referred to as supplementary requisitions."

Mr. Jespersen, who was a Drayton Valley visitor last Thursday for the installation of officers by the Senior Citizens Club, explained that if the 4 3/4 mills of supplementary requisitions applicable in L.I.D. 77 were applied to the assessment of pipelines and power lines it would have meant additional revenue of almost $49,000.

In Stony Plain Municipal District the proposed assessment would mean an additional revenue of $42,000.

In L.I.D. 78 the assessment is nearly $11,000,000 for pipe pipelines and power lines. Most of it comes into the Edson School Division where the supplementary requisition is 17.37 mills. On this basis the proposed amendment would mean revenue of about $150,000 to the L.I.D.

Report Recreation Activities At Ratepayer's Meeting

The Centennial Year of 1967 was an eventful year for recreation in Drayton Valley with the official opening of three major recreation facilities in the community.

Recreation Director Michael Gormley, in his report to the annual Ratepayers Meeting last week stated that the opening of the Centennial Civic Centre, the Rotary Centennial Park, and the Lions West Valley Park had added five additional recreational outlets to the community.

As in other phases of community life, most of last year's recreation program was Centennial oriented. A major portion of the recreation program revolved around the Centennial Civic Centre, the Swimming Pool and the Lions West Valley Park.

The Civic Centre had a very busy schedule from January 1st to April 8th with 250 persons taking part in the hockey program that involved 15 teams.

figure skating was also a major part of the recreation program with 200 enrolled in the club.

During the summer months the Civic Centre was used on an average of once a week with a variety of activities going on. Many of those activities had to do with the Centennial program.

The Drayton Valley Swimming Pool was an equally busy place from June 1st to September 22nd. A total of 40, - 130 swimmers used the pool during this time for recreational swimming and swimming instruction.

Approximately 22,000 people enjoyed recreation swimming during the season and 18,130 were enrolled for swimming instruction. The Red Cross Instruction Program had 388 registrations, the Royal Life Saving Society, 48, and enrolled in the school swimming program were about 500 students.

In 1967 the Junior Leader Program was introduced and proved to be very satisfactory. A group of 15 interested young people between the ages of 12 and 15 years of age helped out with the pool work on a volunteer basis under the direction

Health Hints from THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

The training of a doctor starts the day he enters university in a three or four year course of pre-medical education. It ends when he retires from practice, some 40 or 50 years later. The Canadian Medical Association reports.

After the pre-medical course, which emphasizes science but includes a wide range of other subjects of the student's choice, comes four years as a medical student. In medical school the doctor-to-be learns the wonders of the human body, how to preserve it in good health, what ills afflict it, how to relieve them and, most important of all, how to prevent them.

The day of graduation signals the birth of another new doctor. But the M.D. degree doesn't mean the end of school; it's merely the first plateau of the mountain of knowledge the doctor must climb in a lifetime as a student.

After a year's internship in a hospital, the doctor is ready to go out into practice. Some choose instead to spend another four or five years in training to specialize. Others go into teaching medical students, doing medical research or working in administrative posts requiring medical knowledge.

Whatever path the young graduate chooses, he knows that with medical knowledge doubling every 10 years, he will have to work hard and constantly to keep up to date. Throughout his entire professional life he will have to read medical journals and attend courses of continuing education in order to keep abreast of new developments in prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and management of disease.

The C.M.A. says, a scholarly way of life for its doctors is Canada's best assurance of quality medical care.

Sundance 4-H Members Visit Winifred Stewart School

TERRY BENTLEY,
Club Reporter

On February 29th the Sundance 4-H Beef and Garden Club visited the Winifred Stewart School for Retarded Children.

This was very interesting. We saw children of all ages being taught co-ordination, concentration, association with others and speech. These are called Sense Training Classes. From there the children go to Grade classes.

Each child is helped to go as far as he can go in each subject. Every child is treated as an individual. The Winifred Stewart School believes each retarded child has his own special abilities and talent just as any normal child

Part of their training includes swimming, physical training and crafts. We saw some of the pottery they had made and the weaving. It was beautiful. They also learn upholstering, leather work, ceramics, silk screen painting and rug making.

The staff are wonderful with the children, so kind and understanding. They know just how to handle them and the children are very happy.

After leaving the school we had lunch and then went to a show called "The Happiest Millionaire". It was a very good show. Everyone there had a wonderful day.

Legislature Report

By Tony Cox

The severest warning to Albertans for some time was issued in the Legislature Friday by Provincial Treasurer, A.O. Aalborg.

If present trends in both revenue and expenditure projections continue, serious consideration must be given to introducing substantial new forms of taxation to meet the growing appetites of education and health.

While the Government prefers the phrase 'fiscal restraint' rather than 'austerity', what Mr. Aalborg really was hinting "be prepared for a sales tax next year".

But for the moment, Alberta will drift along with a deficit of $70,458,110. This is well below the estimated $110 million deficit for the current fiscal year caused mainly by a $40 million drop in anticipated sales of oil and natural gas exploration permits.

For the first time, Alberta may have to borrow money as the remaining liquid reserves will evaporate to neutralize the deficit.

As for additional revenues, automobile licence fees have increased $5.00 and subject to some exemptions, the fuel oil tax will jump in price three cents a gallon July 1st adding $21 million to provincial coffers.

Purple gas will have a three cent tax but remains free of the present 12 cent gasoline tax.

From estimated expenditures of $893,174,485, up 7% from this year, education takes 30.8% and health 21.8%, which represents more than half of the Government spending.

Concern is being expressed about the reduction of U.S. capital investment in Alberta. So serious, in fact, Premier Manning says he has written to the Federal Government requesting them to submit Alberta's resolution to Washington urging reallocation of American guidelines for investment.

The Government has abandoned its policy of restricting enrollment at the University of Alberta in Edmonton to 18,000 students. Because of pyramiding costs, it is more economical to expand the present campus than build a second university, said Premier Manning.

Education Minister, Ray Reiersen, said if school boards want more money for capital construction this year, they will have to borrow it elsewhere. The $50 million available from the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation has already been shelled out, he

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We Go From Bad To Worse . . .

The annual meeting of town ratepayers managed to garner an audience of about a dozen residents but the annual school subdivision meeting in Frank Maddock High School last Wednesday was not so fortunate and failed to attract even a single taxpayer.

It is unfortunate that the entire School Board and staff members travelled many miles to be greeted by an empty auditorium. It is especially unfortunate in view of the fact that the school requisition takes a very large part of the taxation dollar and ratepayers must surely be concerned about how it is spent.

The date of the last announcement was February 14 and we believe that the fact that two weeks passed between then and the meeting had considerable bearing on attendance. This newspaper is also guilty of not printing a reminder in the issue of February 21st but we feel this ties in with our comment last week on changing dates of important events to coincide with the publication days of weekly newspapers across the province. On the other hand, you might argue that if reminders are required, people can't be too interested.

We feel sure that Drayton Valley residents are not as disinterested in school affairs as attendance at the meeting appears to indicate and if they had been reminded a day or so before the meeting the picture would likely have been changed considerably.

We hope it was lack of a last minute reminder that kept people away because if the attendance failure means complete indifference we are certainly headed well down the path to civic decay.

Some Young People Should Leave School . .

But are you sure you're one of them?

Yes, some young people should leave school...either to attend a different sort of school...or to get a job. There are a few who are unfitted (Physically, mentally, or emotionally) for the school they are attending or even for any kind of formal schooling.

These young people, though, are a minority--a very small minority. The rest should stay in school. In the right school, of course, but in school. Many have probably thought at one time or another of dropping out through boredom, frustration, or whatever. It's normal.

If this feeling does not pass, then you may be in the wrong school. But there is a right school for you. There is the right school, and the right courses of study, for every young person. Ask around. Ask a counsellor. And then, when you've found the right school, stick with it until you reach your goal.

Many drop-outs seem happy now. But what about ten years from now? What will they be, and where will they be then? Ask yourself that question.

Some young people should leave school but make very sure you're one of them. Think it over. There's time to make up your mind but not very much time. Don't quit... choose.

said. The Government has no immediate plans to build a junior college in Edmonton.

Welfare Minister A.J. Hooke admitted there are many people on welfare who refuse employment for fear of losing their assistance cheques. Welfare doled out $57 million last year for the needy and the greedy.

Casting shadows at morality Mr. Hooke said 3,535 children were born out of wedlock in the province last year, equal to about 11% of all Alberta births.

Adamantly opposed to expanding the day care centre program to provide 'baby sitting' services on a grand scale the House agreed to consider an expanded program as circumstances require and finances permit.

Albertans can expect to motor from Calgary to Banff on a 4-lane divided freeway by 1971.

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor says the Province has exchanged 13,188 acres, most of it in the Bow River Forestry Reserve for 340 acres of right of way through the Stoney Indian Reserve. The land swap saves the Government about $5 million in road construction costs enabling it to go across the Reserve rather than around it.

The final report of the Alberta Department of Youth, hockey study committee, tabled by Youth Minister, Robert Clark said it has sufficient evidence to indicate that amateur hockey and its players are being exploited by professional organizations.

Alberta's distressed potato industry may get the boost it needs if the Federal Government heeds a Legislative request for the implementation of a 'value for duty' section in the Customs Act against U.S. potato dumping practices in Western Canada.

Across the floor, the fledgling Opposition is continuing to needle the Government and it shows no sign of running out of questions. As for the deficit budget, the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Lougheed accused the Government of 'not facing the realities of 1968' and Liberal leader, Mr. Maccagno described it as 'timid'. Both men have promised some lively debate.

The West Valley picnic facilities were also used to advantage by town residents and visitors and the 880 track opened late in the season will be a useful facility in the future.

Besides the activities of the major recreation facilities, Mr. Gormley, also outlined the wide variety of cultural and recreational outlets available to residents of the community ranging from the public library through a large number of clubs and groups offering specialized programs.

Hockey Night Proves Success

Last Friday, March 1, 1968 the annual minor hockey night was held. All hockey teams that are coached and organized by the Association, its supporting members and coaches turned out for the event. It was a success and indeed gratifying to see all the parents turn out the way they did. Many parents from out of town were there showing their interest in their children's activities.

We hope that this interest will increase and that this will become one of the major events of the year. The Association is concerned about sports and behaviour in sports in general and, it is our intention to promote good and honourable sportsmanship in this community.

Financially this event was a success also. Much needed money was realized by the sale of tickets, advertisements and programs. Errors have slipped in, as we are all aware of. These will be eliminated next year we hope.

We thank all those people who have helped us to make this event successful, the coaches, commissioners, sponsors, Bambee's Confectionery who donated soft drinks and served them as well, the busi-

Ratepayers Meeting Held at Evansburg

Full council and twelve other persons were in attendance at the annual ratepayers meeting held in the Village Office at Evansburg.

In his report Mayor Corkery explained that although the Auditor's Financial Statement showed a deficit a portion of this was recoverable by way of the Winter Works Grant when claims were available. He went on to explain that due to the fact that some of the taxes were not being paid until almost the end of December the council was forced to make two bank loans throughout the year for operational purposes and they were considering the levying of a second penalty rate for non-payment of taxes.

He advised the balance of the Street Assistance Grant would be employed this year and it was anticipated extensions would be required to the water and sewer systems. Steps were already being taken in the survey of a possible water reservoir. In closing he thanked the ratepayers, his fellow councillors, the Secretary-Treasurer and the Maintenance Man for their co-operation in matters relating to the village.

In the presentation of the Auditor's Financial Statement there was a motion from the floor that in future a supplementary statement be made available by the Secretary-Treasurer wherein a more detailed breakdown of the years operation would be shown.

Further complaints were heard on the control of dogs in the village.

The subject of a direct route to the elevator along the south boundary of the Elementary School property from the access road was discussed and the meeting was advised the Department of Highways would be contacted in this matter. Requests were also heard for the cleanup of vacant lots that created a fire hazard. The Fire Chief advised this would be undertaken by the Volunteer Fire Department in their spring cleanup

"What other people think of our Cattle"

1. In reply to your letter, re. Bull 166W. We did not purchase one of the more expensive bulls but we are satisfied with him 100%. We haven't any calves as yet. Our cows are all due this spring. He's a healthy animal, very gentle, fairly good sized and no problems. Mr. John Millnichuck, R.R. 1, Duffield, Alberta.
2. I'm quite satisfied so far. I have only two calves from him but expect calves from fifty head this spring. There have been no repeats on service. This bull is quiet and easy to handle. Up to date, he is in perfect health and would weigh about 1700 pounds. Bill Vanderwell, R.R. 1, Duffield, Alberta.
3. I bought 3 heifers and one bull and the heifers all have a nice calf. The bull has proven to be good and I am quite well satisfied. I also thought that the way they were delivered to my farm yard was very good. William Dusterhoff, Rocky Rapids, Alta.

4. This bull is a strong breeder and has settled 40 cows this past summer. His calves should start coming about March 24th. Betlamini Bros., R. J. Betlamini, Pendry, Alta.

5. I'm pleased to report your bulls which I purchased at your first production sale have stood up very well under our conditions, which are a little more rugged than many ranches. The bulls had to breed 40 cows a piece, in a seven week period on open range. I'm sure the result is a better than 90% breeding job which we expect. I would recommend your bulls to any rancher or breeder. Ernie Klassen, Wardlaw, Alberta

Skaters Prepare for Annual Carnival

Figure skating in Drayton Valley is becoming increasingly popular if the enrollment in this year's skating program is any indication. This year there are 207 registered skaters compared to last year's 95.

The Drayton Valley Figure Skating Club through its affiliation with the Alberta Figure Skating Association tries to encourage figure skating as a recreational sport for skaters of all ages. The program is presented at a minimum of expense to those participating and acts as an introduction to the internationally recognized Canadian Figure Skating Association program.

The beginners classes conducted by the local club are recommended for all those who are just learning the fundamentals of skating. Figure skates are not necessary at this level but for those interested in the higher levels of figure skating it is recommended that the skater become accustomed to the figure skates early. The young hockey player may also derive some benefit from these classes.

The Alberta Figure Skating Association program consists of four levels, the preliminary crest test, the bronze blade test, the silver blade test and the gold blade test. The silver blade test is equivalent to the Canadian Figure Skating Association preliminary test.

With this system those that wish may advance to the C.F.S.A. program and championship competition which is of course more expensive and

Rebels Win Two At Weekend

The Drayton Valley Rebels showed fine form last Saturday and Sunday at the Centennial Civic Centre as they took both ends of a doubleheader from the Calgary Ashdowns. The Rebels edged the Ashdowns 6-5 Saturday night and came on strong to take a 7-4 victory Sunday afternoon. Both games featured fast, clean and exciting hockey. The Ashdowns are a fine hockey team and the Rebels had to be at their best to beat them.

Saturday's game started rather slow but soon picked up momentum. The Rebels scored the only goal of the initial frame when Jim Dunn dented the twine from about ten feet out on passes from Frank Novosel and Rod Colbert at 19:35.

The Rebels wasted no time in the second canto with Novosel scoring on a pass from Dunn at the one minute mark. The Rebels kept on the pressure and at 7:38 Barry Ness latched on to a pass from Frank Novosel and Garry Pankewicz behind the Ashdown defense and went in all alone to make the score 3-0 in favor of the Rebels. Two minutes later Novosel scored and the home team were up 4-0. Then temporarily the roof fell in as the hustling Ashdowns came storming back to even the score with four goals in the brief time of five minutes and 32 seconds leaving the score all tied up at 4-4 at the end of two periods.

In the third period both teams went at it full speed ahead with the Rebels having a slight territorial edge in play. Ron Hemmingway scored early in the period and Calgary evened the score when Pat Falls scored on a pass from Blanchette. At 14:07 Barry Solnes scored to give the Rebels the edge for victory. The Ashdowns started strong in Sunday's game when Weatherby scored at the 4-second mark on passes from Brian Spencer and Jim Gatherpole. The Rebels weathered the early storm and at 3:40 evened the score when Garry Haack tipped in a close in drive by Ron Hemmingway. Ten minutes later Dave Boulter snatched a loose puck and scored. Garry Pankewicz got control of the play at the Rebel blueline and carried in for a beautiful goal-mouth pass to Ness who made no mistake at 19:55 and the score was 3-1 after one period of play.

Novosel made it 4-1 when he scored at 2:02 of the third period. Haack got his second goal with Hall and Hemmingway assisting at 6:17. Then at 15:10 Calgary broke out into a scoring rash collecting three markers inside three minutes to make the score read Rebels 5, Calgary 4 at the end of the second period.

The third period started fast for the Rebels with Dunn scoring at the 43 second mark to make it 6-4 for the White and Green. Alvin Hopfe closed out the scoring at the 13:35 mark to make the final score read 7-4.

Leprechauns Tie Kings

The Drayton Valley Hotel Leprechauns and the Wabamun Kings played a 5-5 tie in an exhibition Pee Wee hockey game played at the Centennial Civic Centre last Saturday afternoon. The game was close all the way and featured some interesting hockey.

Scoring for the Hotel were Donnie Hennessey with two goals and Bob Henderson, Norman Jevne, and Davey Galvon with singles. For the visitors it was Mike Goulet and Paul Dumont with two goals each and Wayne Scott getting the single marker.

Teachers' Convention Held Last Weekend

While students enjoyed the fine weather of an extra long weekend 800 of their teachers were hard at work at the annual convention in Edmonton.

Attending the convention at the MacDonald Hotel on Thursday and Friday, February 29th and March 1st, were teachers from the School Divisions of Barrhead, Lac Ste. Anne, St. Paul, and Stony Plain.

They heard outstanding speakers discussing educational issues and had the opportunity of discussing the new curricula in English and Science, as well as the opportunity of exchanging views with teachers from other parts of the province.

Teachers' Conventions are authorized by the Department of Education and are organized by the Alberta Teachers' Association for the in-service training and the professional development of teachers in Alberta schools. They are an important part of the continuing self-education program of many teachers.

One new feature of the convention this year was a showing of paintings and other kinds of teacher-made arts. Teachers from the Westlock and Drayton Valley areas are particularly active in the area of the fine arts.

About 500 of the teachers had an opportunity Thursday afternoon and evening, to tour the Provincial Museum and to examine its potential as a possible additional teaching resource area for schools in the Edmonton district.

Evansburg Plant Wins Dairy Prize

The Evansburg branch of the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool has won fourth prize for the best quality milk produced during 1967.

The prize was awarded to H. Schendzielorz who is in charge of the milk department in Evansburg.

The award is based on the best quality of both raw and finished milk received and manufactured over a period of one year. The competition is open to all dairy plants in the province and is awarded at the annual dairymen's convention, which this year was held in Edmonton.

Manager of the plant at Evansburg is J.A. Van Meurs.

A man was bragging at the country store. "The man who marries my daughter," he said, "will get a prize."

"That sounds interesting," said one of the local boys. "What's the prize?"

Hog Marketing Methods Studied at Lethbridge Meet

The first meeting of an educational program to acquaint farmers with a hog marketing issue drew a large crowd in Lethbridge recently. Some 200 farmers turned out to hear proponents of three plans being presented to the hog producers for their consideration; A Hog Marketing Board (single selling agency), a Hog Merchandising and Development Authority, (A marketing board using multiple selling agency), and a hog marketing Commission (single selling agency).

Paul Babbey stated that with Board plans a single selling agency will exert bargaining power. A Board has to have control of the hogs to be able to exert market pressure. The Authority Plan introduced a blend of tried and proven ideas from situations existing presently in several provinces and some new ideas.

Stan Berg stated that the plan was voluntary and that a producer retained the right to sell through different ways, including on his own account, so long as all the hogs were sold on the teletype. He said the plan had built in bargaining power through provision of future selling; i.e. one day before shipping out of barn. This way he stated, "The hogs with consequent expense and less product to sell through shrinkage."

The Commission spokesman said that in a free enterprise society the producer should have a choice of whether to use a selling system or opt-out direct to the packer.

Agricultural Outlook for 1968

Some of our farm products should find easier access to export markets as Kennedy Round decisions are put into effect this year.

There seems to be a renewed economic expansion in the offing which will help maintain the current high level of exports of all commodities.

A new International Grain Arrangement has been made; Britain has raised the quota for fresh apple imports from North America; and considering the general state of world affairs the outlook is fairly good.

Total cash receipts from farming operations are expected to be higher this year than the estimated $4.4 billion of 1967. Wheat Board payments may be larger; tobacco is in good demand; cattle prices should remain favorable; and slightly better prices are likely for poultry.

However, farm expenses will continue to rise — land, labor and credit will cost more — and will probably keep realized net income at approximately the same level as in 1967.

CEREALS

There were larger wheat harvests in many importing countries in 1967 and world trade slowed down at the beginning of the current crop year, August 1, 1967. Prices are lower but should remain within the bottom part of the range established by the International Grain Arrangement which is to become effective July 1, 1968.

Our wheat export sales have been slow and — depending on what Mainland China buys — may be down to perhaps 350-400 million bushels. Domestic disappearance of 155 million bushels and exports may leave year-end stocks at 615 to 665 million bushels.

We could produce all we need from smaller plantings this spring. The long-term outlook for durum is for a slow increase in demand but current acreage should suffice.

FEED GRAINS

Barley and oats are our major feed crops and the bulk of our production is used domestically for livestock feed. Good returns from animal products should feature the 1968 farm scene again so the amount of concentrates fed will probably rise to 17.7 million tons in this crop year. As oats and barley crops were smaller in '67 the extra will have to come from stocks, from the larger corn crop, and from imports. Carry-over stocks at July 31 will probably be 3.4 million tons, the lowest level since 1962. Though there has been a switch to barley and corn, oats still comprise over 30 per cent of all concentrates fed. With more feed grain needed in 1968-69, a 10-per-cent increase in acreage is desirable.

Exports of flaxseed, rapeseed and soybeans remained unchanged at 34 million bushels the last two years. A lower price situation is expected this crop year for soybeans because of large supplies in the U.S. High current prices and low stocks of flaxseed are probably short-term and large acreage increases could be a mistake; long-term world demand for this product is declining. Rapeseed prices are not likely to increase this year but the market could stand a little more acreage. Sunflower seed sells well but the crop is hard to incorporate into the normal farm production program.

LIVESTOCK

With Canadians consuming more beef last year and thereby slowing the flow to the United States it is reasonable to hope that fed cattle through much of 1968 will again fetch a price above the export equivalent. However, we may be over-optimistic since we don't know how much of the 1967 price boost was due to Expo 67 and other Centennial celebrations rather than to natural growth in the domestic market.

Hog gradings for the first quarter of the new year may be 5 to 7 per cent above a year earlier, and for the following six months perhaps 2 per cent above the 1967 average. Total slaughterings in both the U.S. and Canada for 1968 may be lower than in 1967. If prices for choice barrows and gilts at Chicago average $19 to $22 for the first nine months our own prices will not change much from current levels. Prices for the last quarter of 1968 will depend on the spring crop of pigs, particularly in the United States.

The output of poultry meat will likely continue to expand. Storage stocks should be down to normal in January and though there will be more competition from red meats, poultry feed costs will be lower this year.

Total milk production may be slightly more than the 18.15 billion pounds estimated for 1967. Little change is expected in production of butter (forecast at 327 million pounds in 1967) or cheese, down 21 million and 6 million pounds respectively compared with 1966. Dry skim milk output may increase to 325 million pounds. Total sales of fluid milk will not significantly change though 2-per-cent will be increasingly popular at the expense of standard milk. The public is likely to eat more ice cream and cheese and less butter. Cheddar cheese and dry whole milk exports can be maintained and more dry skim milk will be available for food aid programs.

Choralaires Practising

The Choralaires, under the direction of Mr. Ritchie Woods are once again practising and looking for more members for the group. Second sopranos and altos are urged to come out and enjoy the singing.

The group meet every Monday at 8 p.m. in the Frank Maddock High School.

Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Dog Owners Plan Obedience Classes

Two meetings by interested dog owners have been held in the last month. By the number of dogs at large in Town you would think the theatre would be required for this. However, the Mayor's office would have been too large.

The prime purpose was to get support for kennels in or near town. It is still hoped that this can be done.

One useful purpose has been served and a dog obedience course will be going ahead. Dog owners interested in this course should contact Chief Doig or Gordon Pickup as soon as possible. A meeting will be held March 14th in the Civil Defence Room, Town Hall at 8 p.m. to complete these arrangements.

Some interesting facts have come to light during the meetings. Although countless complaints are made to police and Town officials about dogs, no charges have been laid by citizens. To date only 39 licenses have been sold. Also the town is not required by law to keep dogs, but may destroy them at once if running at large.

Crossbreeding for Herd Improvement Suggested

Before buying replacement bulls this spring, commercial cattle breeders should carefully consider methods of improving their competitive advantage within the industry, says J. S. Lore, Livestock specialist with the Alberta Animal Industry Division.

He suggests that crossbreeding is one of the methods worth considering. Most traits particularly those with a low heritability rating, can be improved much faster by crossbreeding than they can by straightbreeding.

Research has shown that first-cross calves have a total advantage over their straightbred herd mates of from 5 to 8 per cent. The total advantage of producing crossbred calves from crossbred cows compared to straightbred calves is between 10 and 15 per cent.

While there are many advantages to crossbreeding, such a program necessitates a number of changes in management, says Mr. Lore, some of which may be considered disadvantages.

First, two or three breeding fields are required for rotational crossing unless artificial insemination is used. Second, certain crossbreds require different post-weaning management from that used for straightbreds. For example, some crossbreds will be large enough when weaned to go into the feedlot. Third, more specialized marketing may be required for crossbreds. It is better to sell crossbred feeders at sales which feature that particular cross.

Regarding the selection of a bull for a crossbred breeding program, Mr. Lore recommends the following procedure: Choose a bull that offers at least as much in desirable traits as a bull of the same breed as the cows; select breeds for crossing that have a large choice of sires; Bear in mind that the wider the cross, the greater the hybrid vigor that can be expected; and cull cross bred replacement cows as rigorously as their straightbred herd mates.

Since crossbred calves reflect the performance of their parents, no commercial cattle producer can afford the luxury of a bull with a poor or unknown performance potential, says Mr. Lore. Bulls with superior growth rates from performance tested herds should be used to sire crossbred calves.

The names of breeders who are performance testing their herds can be obtained from district agriculturists and from the Animal Industry Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Several Activities Planned By Tomahawk 4-H Club

The fourth regular meeting of Tomahawk 4-H Beef Club was held February 13, 1968 at the Tower home. Co-hosts were Enjeneski's. All members were present.

Kevin Reich led the pledge. Roll call was parts of the beef animal (no repeats).

Selling of Slow-Moving-Vehicle signs were again discussed. A committee set up at the last meeting to look into this matter, found that a local dealer was already selling them but had offered to represent the beef club in this regard. The decision was to again sell Slow-Moving-Vehicle signs with Mr. Schadeck as dealer.

The club will again go to Edmonton to curl and bowl in the Edmonton Regional council's annual get-together. The discussion on whether or not to attend the Stony Plain talent rally was tabled for the next meeting. The club is planning to go to the annual Edmonton stock show and rodeo in March.

Mr. Case reported on the purpose of the regional council, reasons we should continue joining, and benefits we receive by being a member. The treasurer's report was read and adopted.

Four reports were given; Vitamins by Joan Schiedeman; Feeds by Rita Peskunowicz; Types of Feeders by Charles Jabs; Judging by George Cherrington.

After the adjournment of the meeting, Mr. Grant Gillan, Evansburg D.A. gave a quiz which will count towards efficiency. Following this, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Bly and Mrs. Enjeneski.

New Teen Club Formed

Teens For Christ will meet for the very first time this Saturday, March 9th at 8 p.m.

The film entitled, Face The Music will be shown. It is one of the finest films you will ever see.

There is no charge, but an offering will be received.

TFC (Teens For Christ) is a recently formed interdenominational group interested in trying to show teens (and adults) that applied Christianity really works in our modern society.

The TFC program is geared to teens, but even the adults will enjoy it. Come and find out for yourself.

Tomahawk Club Holds Meeting

VALERIE WARD
Club Reporter

The 7th meeting of the Tomahawk Nible Fingers Clothing Club was held at the home of Joyce Jouan on January 29, 1968 at 8:30 p.m.
The meeting came to order with Eileen Burke leading the pledge, instead of Marie Hand-zuik who was absent that night.
Thirteen members were present and two leaders, Mrs. Domke and Mrs. Paris.

Our secretary, Donna Jouan, read the minutes of the previous meeting and the president Gail Lukanuik approved the minutes as read. The treasurer collected the money for the toboggan party. We also decided to buy more Huck-Weaving books. Gail Lukanuik and Joyce Jouan gave a demonstration on project books.

Since Marie Handzuik was absent her and Cheryl Ditchuk couldn't give a demonstration on "Curved Seams". Joyce Jouan and Bernice Martin served a very inviting lunch.

Spectator: "Have an accident?"
Victim: "No thanks, I just had one."
